

Willow loved being Marine Biologists! On our trip to the London Aquarium we learnt all about different sea creatures and where in the world one can find them. One of our favourite parts was touching a real live starfish!

