

Role play in Nursery

We are loving our new role play area. It is a building site and at the moment we are building towers for the giant to climb down, because Jack chopped the beanstalk down.

March 2018